Ms. Hesse,

I would like to go on the record as being against the Proposed Final Judgement in United States vs Microsoft.

As a software professional and avid computer user I am dismayed that the Proposed Final Judgement does not go far enough in curbing the monopolistic behaviour of Microsoft. Microsoft was shown every indication in the past of not abiding with previous court-sanctioned limitations.

The only solution to allow access to the Operating System, as defined in the Proposed Final Judgement, to other Microsoft applications the same as non-Microsoft applications. If this means that Microsoft should be broken up then so be it.

Yours Sincerely,
